

Dear Colleagues, Clients and

Collaborators:

I've always felt encumbered by this Holiday timing. It feels like it comes right after the school year begins, until I realize incredulously that August was already four months ago! Traditions being traditions, as we lead into December, I want to thank everyone who helps to Activate, and particularly, who help to make MORE ZAP milestones, moving shared goals and dreams forward. Without you, none of these SUCCESES would be possible.

To ALL the casting directors, stage and screen directors, producers, publishers, agents, acquisitions editors, alliances, artists and authors that MORE ZAP'S talent, production and literary management represents or with whom we COLLABORATE to maneuver and manage projects, please know that I am truly grateful. More Zap is dynamic, and even barrier-breaking because of the company we keep.... In Los Angeles, in New York, in Las Vegas, Melbourne, Australia and AROUND the globe.

Here are just some of MORE ZAP's milestones of 2016:

- TALENT Emily Alabi, now also agented by Pantheon Talent for theatrical, booked a major Guest Star on NCIS for CBS, and carried her episode. You can also see Emily on Teen Wolf in the last episodes of the recurring role, Red Sky.
- LITERARY client, Steve Dorff will have a book in market in 2017, co-written with Colette Freedman. This book is about Steve's musical journey, as composer and songwriter of a long list of hits for top industry artists and music for TV and film. We are quite excited to be working with Bernadette Malavarca and the team at Hal Leonard, Backbeat Book Imprint. Look for more news and the book, now titled, "I Wrote That One Too A Life in Songwriting From Willie to Whitney." Also, Steve Dorff's song, recorded by Garth Brooks this year, was #19 on the Billboard Charts!

- Shiloh Craveling booked the starring role in a series called Ravenwolf Towers, cast by Jan Glaser, who called her essence in the room, "timeless." Hulu.
- Shiloh and Laur Allen both earned lead roles in a film short shot in Joshua Tree that will be released in May of 2017.
- Brianna Chomer Stalked by my Doctor, opposite Eric Roberts, which released on Lifetime and Netflix and The Return, aired.
- Gabrielle Made booked two major commercial campaigns with our friends, the commercial on-camera team at BBR, including Eye Love with Jennifer Anniston and AT&T. Gabrielle also played opposite Billy Bob Thornton on the premiere episode of Amazon's Goliath TV series. Congratulations for signing with Coast to Coast Talent Agency for theatrical and VO rep.
- With a booking for a major motion picture doing VO, Rebecca Galarza qualified to join SAG/AFTRA, and recently joined up. #union She can also be seen as the very first Princess Elena in Disney California Adventure with her Royal Court; singing live.
- Dan Istrate's episodes of Start Up on the new Crackle network are available now for viewing. He played a Hungarian "travel agent" con artist opposite Martin Freeman. <http://www.crackle.com/startup#!>
- Tera Hendrickson and her band Les Zazou were booked at the Hollywood Bowl for the summer season. Bravo!
- Henry Knotts shot his first starring role in a SAG indie film in Texas, Bomb City, based on true events. He will be shooting Idiot Sitter for Comedy Central in December, as a "singer" doing his Rap thing.
- Matthew Shaffer and Jeff Payton had co-stars on CW's Crazy Ex-Girlfriend with Rachel Bloom, in an adorable parody of a famous Marilyn Monroe film production number. You might have Seen Matthew on The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon? Yes, Matthew's book, "So You Want to be a Dancer" was featured in a sarcastic sketch. #publicity #grateful

- Kym Gold, entered into a shopping deal with Glass Entertainment Group, to develop a reality TV concept, based on Kym's story in her book, published in 2015, Gold Standard. (More Zap IS Executive Producer. We are delighted to be working with JC Mills, Nancy Glass and their creative production team.)
- Client, Ted Lapkin has joined forces with More Zap Literary for his speculative fiction manuscript that Jane Cowen Hamilton and I are both representing.
- Anya Inger and Isabella Cotrone, two of our youngest clients, got their first talent agents, GTA and Media Artists Group, respectively. Grayson Niles, now able to work both in Canada and US markets, signed commercially to Commercial Talent. Kudos.
- Monique Dawes, will be splitting time working in both Australia and US markets. Monique was recently offered a role in the Aussie production of Grease.
- More Zap Productions partnered with City Connection Entertainment to produce an original stage review, "Bond. James Bond," presented in Chicago at the Union League for their Gala. Our talented cast included an amazing group of actor/dancer/specialty performers from both Los Angeles and Chicago. This show had aerial, fencing and weapons staging, with story, choreography and concept developed by MORE ZAP.

Our Website continues to be designed by the very talented and generous, Jaquie Aubert, OF Website Creations IN Switzerland, – A dear friend who deserves a SHOUT-OUT... Jaquie and I first met dancing together in ballet classes at the Westside Ballet in Santa Monica... and then were on scholarship together in NYC at the Joffrey Ballet School. AGAIN – Talk about time flying!

OKAY, I promise– Just one Last SHOUT-OUT before I close...the cool COVER photo collage on this greeting features the photography of Russell Baer, who aptly captures the TALENT and the TEAM SPIRIT of MORE ZAPPERS! Additional images on our Holiday card were by photographers Brad Buckman, Denice Duff, Michael Higgins, Wes Klain, and Damon Kuenzler.

Michelle Z and Team More Zap Wish you and your loved ones Peace and a [relatively] stress-free Holiday!
